MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1866.

The Soldiers and Sailors at Pittsburg. THE Convention of Soldiers and Sailors which meets to-day in Pittsburg promises to be one of the largest and most influential political assemblages ever held in our country. For disguise it as we may, the truth remains, that the contest this fall is as truly one between loyalty and disloyalty, between Union and disunion, between freedom and slavery, as at any time during the war. The struggle has merely been transferred from the battle-field to the ballot box. The late Rebels are endeavoring to secure by political management and chicanery what they failed to secure by force of arms. They are plotting to renew even the physical contest, provided they can do so under circumstances sufficiently promising to justify the attempt. Already we are threatened with the virtual overthrow of the popular branch of the Government, and the usurpation of its functions by an illegal and revolutionary assemblage of Southern Rebels and Northern traitors.

Under these circumstances, it is meet and proper that the men who perilled their lives during the late fearful struggle should make their influence felt. The hard-earned fruits of those four years of terrible strife are at stake. The question vet remains to be settled, whether the lives of our three hundred thousand Union soldiers, slain in defense of the republic, were vainly sacrificed. It is to be seen whether traitors whose hands are still red with the blood of Union men, are to be admitted to Congress to have a voice in making laws for a free people. It is to be determined whether a South Carolina Rebel is to have two and one-half times as much political power in the nation as a Pennsylvania Union soldier. It is to be settled whether the power of this great people and its future destinies are to be entrusted to a party which during the past four years has covered itself with disloyalty as with a garment, which discouraged enlistments, deprived the Union soldier of his vote, poured contempt upon his patriotic efforts, declared the war for the Union a failure, and in every possible way strengthened the hands and encouraged the efforts of the armed enemies of the country.

These are the practical issues of the bour, and they appeal most powerfully to the brave men who have just leid by the harness of war and resumed the garments of peace, Gathered by thousands and tens of thousands at Pittsburg, they will send forth no uncertain sound. Their words will have the ring of the true coin. They will speak cheer to the great hosts now fighting for the Constitution and the Union, and dismay to the mad plotters against the liberties of the people.

Escape of the Lottery Dealers. THE lottery men have again escaped the clutches of the law, Judge Ludlow, in the Quarter Sessions, on Saturday, on account of "certain fatal defects," quashing the indictment against Carpenter. It must be a matter of regret to all good men that these scoundrels are so fortunate. We doubt if a poor wretch who should steal a loaf of bread to keep from starving would get off so easily. These fellows ply their nefarious business openly and constantly, and yet it seems impossible to get one of them convicted. We hope the officers of the law will not be discouraged, but will " pick their flints" and try again. It must be possible to frame an indictment against a lottery dealer that will

IMPORTANT ELECTION NOTICE. - By reference to the proclamation for a State election in another column, it will be found that, in accordance with the new statute. Sheriff Henry C. Howell directs that the polls shall be opened at 7 o'clock A. M., on Tuesday, the 9th of October, and they shall be closed at 6 o'clock P. M. of the same day. This is an important matter, and every voter should bear it constantly in mind. See that arrangements are made to get in the votes of all the workingmen, by visiting the proprietors of establishments, and explaining the necessity of granting at least a half hour during the day to each man in order that he may avail himself of the right of suffrage accorded to every American freeman. Under the old law the polls were opened at or before 8 o'clock A. M., and closed at 8 o'clock P. M.

A QUESTION .- The people would like to know of young Mr. Buckwalter who aspires to Congressional honors in the Third District, whether he is a candidate for the Congress of the United States, or for that nondescript, Confederate, revolutionary body, to be composed of Southern Rebels and their Northern allies, with which the nation is threatened? Is he in tayor of law and order, or of usurpation and confusion? This is a very important question to the staid, peaceable propertyholders of the Third District, who do not wish to see civil war precipitated on the country. Is Buckwalter a candidate for the threatened Rebel Congress, or for the Congress of the United States? Let us have an answer.

THE DIFFERENCE,-Employes of the Treasury Department, it is said, were allowed ten days' leave of absence to attend the Cleveland onvention. A like favor is denied those who desire to attend the great Union Soldiers and Sallors' Convention at Pittsburg.

The State Canvass

THE nominations in all of the Congressional districts of Pennsylvania have been completed, and the parties stand fully stripped for the fight. In this State, in the past few years, the majorities have varied. At last year's election she chose a State Auditor; General Hartran't, the Union candidate, received 238,400 votes, and Colonel W. H. H. Davis, Democrat, 215,740, making 450,140 votes in all, and a Union majority of 22,660. In 1863 Curt'n received 269,496 votes, to Woodward's 254,171, a Union majority of 15,325 in a total vote of 523,667. In 1864 the vote for President stood:-Lincoln, 296,339; McClellan, 276,308, or a total of 572,647, with a majority for Lincoln of 20,031.

There can be little doubt but that a large gain over the vote of 1863 will be secured for Geary. The most vital importance is in regard to the Congressional districts. We print below a complete list of the nominations for Congress in the State, side by side with the vote of each district at the election of 1864. The names of the present Representatives renominated are italicized:-

Of these Messrs. O'Neill, Kelley, Taylor, Broomall, Stevens, Archibald, Mercur, Miller, Koontz, Morrell, Wilson, Schoffeld, Finney, Covode, Moorehead, Williams, and Lawrence-all staunch Republicans-are almost certain of an election. The Democrats will probably carry Randall, Boyer, Getz, Van Anken, and Glossbrenner; while the Third and Tenth Districts are doubtful, with chances in favor of Messrs. Myers and Cake, the Republican candidates. We do not pretend to predict, but roughly sketch what seems to be

THE Lower House of the Oregon Legisla ture has ratified the Const tutional amendment. There is no doubt as to the concurrence of the Senate, so that Oregon may now be added to Tennessee, New Jersey, Connecticut, and New Hampshire. Neither New Jersey por Oregon adopted the Anti-slavery amendment until after the requisite number of States had already been secured, so that here we have a clear gain of two States to

The popular movement in favor of this great measure of peace and union is every day becoming more powerful and imposing. The New York Times to day comes out in a strong prticle for the amendment. The three great papers of New York-the Tribune, the Times, and the Herald, read by millions of people-are all in favor of it. Even the Southern papers begin to show signs of supporting it.

THE Age this morning publishes the following paragraph, which it avers was uttered by Horace Maynard at a speech at Athens, Tenn., the date of which, however, is not

"I tell you, gentlemen, that in a short time all this complaint about negro equality will be done away with. In a short time he will marry and intermarry in your families. It is a little objectionable to-day, but you will soon get over this, and the persecuted negro will be welcomed to your parlors,"

-Without reference to the address, and relying entirely on what we know of the public sentiments and private views of Mr. Maynard, we have no hesitation in accusing the Age of falsifying his remarks. That Mr. Maynard ever made such a statement is about as true as that the Bible says "There is no God."

THE STATE FAIR .- For many years it has been our annual custom to hold a State Fair. at which all the products of Pennsylvania could be exhibited. For the past six years this Fair has occurred at Easton. It will commence on Tuesday, and continue until Friday. The North Pennsylvania Raiiroad Company have decided to issue excursion tickets, the advertisement of which will be found in another column. The Fair promises to be one of the best held for many years, and is well worth a visit.

WE HAVE NOT HEARD of Mr. Henry J. Raymond having handed over the $20,000 in his control which belongs to the Republican Executive Committee, although our demand that he should do so has been echoed by the journals of the party throughout the entire North. We had "$190" once in our own city; shall we have "them 20,000" over all the SHERIDAN'S REPORT.—General Sheridan's official report of the New Orleans massacre has been received at Washington; but it is significantly said that the pressure of official business is so great that the report will not be examined for some days. We hope it is not to be suppressed for fear of its effect on the Pennsylvania election.

-Is Buckwalter in tayor of the Constitutional amendment-that great measure of conciliation and Union to which the popular sentiment of the entire nation is so splendidly responding? How does he stand on this great question? Does he favor giving Rebels more power than Union men?

The Parade in the Third District.

THE parade in the Third Congressional District on last Saturday night was a splendid success. There were over four thousand five hundred men in the ranks, fully four thousand of them voters of the Taird District, headed by the "Boys in Blue," five hundred strong-The German Club paraded two hundred and fity; the Myers Campaign Club five hundred The Eighteenth and Nineteenth Wards turned out in immense force, many being on borseback. The Eighteenth Ward had a large bell, and the Nineteenth Ward a cannon, while there were hundreds of mottoes which we we cannot find room for.

A noticeable one was borne by the German Club, which read, "No renegades among the Germans." One from the Eighteenth Ward, "One thousand majority for Leonard Myers;" another, "$700,000 reimbursed the State by Honorable Leonard Myers;" another, "This idea of protection is no new thing with me. I learned it from the patriot statesman of Kentucky." Extract from Myers' speech in

The demonstration was a most imposing and enthusiastic one, and shows that the Union men of the District are fully aware of the efforts of the conglomerate opposition to defeat their tried and faithful representative. Myers, be it remembered, is running for the lawful, constitutional Congress of the United States, not for the bogus revolutionary affair with which the peace of the country is threatened.

FOR CONGRESS IN THE FIRST DISTRICT. -The declination of Joseph R. Lyndail, Esq., of the nomination tendered him by the Republican party, left the party without a candidate for Congress. This want has been supplied by the selection of Edward C. Knight, Esq., who has accepted the compliment. A better choice could not have been made than that of Mr. Knight. He is a merchant of unimpeachable honor, and a most amiablh, and universally respected gentleman. He is thoroughly identified with all the business interests of our city, and is sound on every question. While his election may be considered improbable, yet he will be the recipient of so complimentary a vote as will prove that Southwark appreciates one of her best sons, and desires to testify her respect for one whose interests are all centred in her prosperity.

THE New York Times is out this morning strengly in favor of the Constitutional amendment. It concludes a leader as follows:-

"The amendment now awaits the action of the Legislatures of the several States. It is just in itself, and its adoption, by remedying injustice and providing for the public safety, would do much towards tranquillizing public sentiment, and preparing the way for the more speedy restoration of peace and harmony to all sections of our common Union. It is greatly to be recretted that all the States were not represented in the Congress by which it was proposed: but it is submitted to them all for their consideration and action. Nothing would conduct more to the public peace than its speedy ratification, especially by those States which are to be most directly affected by its provisions."

The return of the prodigal son will soon have a political prototype in the case of the bolting Raymond. "Rats desert a sinking ship,"

"Down to the Dust!"-The United States have apologized to Brazil for the seizure of the pirate Florida. They have saluted the Brazilian flag, and the commander has written a letter stating why the salute was fired. That Government was graciously pleased to accept our humble apology, and the peace of the two lands is thus preserved by diplomacy. There was a time when the United States would not apologize for the capture of a Rebel privateer wherever it might have been found!
